

1,400 Embryos Sell & Rare Semen

Carry the Legacy Forward.

From the depths of the Express Ranches embryo program comes an extraordinary offering of elite Angus genetics—genetics born from vision, refined through decades of dedication, and entrusted with the future of the breed.

For more than 30 years, Express Ranches has pursued one uncompromising goal: to create Angus cattle that stand among the very best. Generation after generation, this historic program has assembled the bloodlines, built the cow families, and made the decisions that have shaped a lasting legacy.

Now, that legacy can become part of yours.

This offering represents a unique opportunity to acquire the genetics behind one of the most distinguished programs in the Angus breed. These embryos carry more than exceptional genetic merit; they carry the history, passion, and relentless pursuit of excellence that define Express Ranches.

The greatest legacies are not simply preserved—they are carried forward.

Invest in the genetics. Own a piece of the history. Build the next generation.
